PARLIAMENT DISSOLVED FOR BRITISH ELECTION

Premier Given Ovation in Campaign Speech at Glasgow; Lloyd George Rests at Oyster Feast

(BY CARLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
LONDON, Oct. 26.—King George today held a privy council at which he signed a proclamation dissolving Parliament and calling the new Parliament to meet November 20. Lord Salisbury, the new Lord President of the council, was the only Minister present, the quorum being supplied by members of the royal household, who are privy councillors. Election day has been fixed for November 15, which is Wednesday.

It is expected the midweek poll instead of Saturday will favor the Conservatives by making it difficult for workmen and business men to vote and easy for the women, for whom Saturday is always the busiest day. Nominations will be made November 4.

Andrew Bonar Law opened his campaign formally today by issuing an address to the electors, in which he outlined his policy. That policy appears clearly negative, except for election economy and his announced intention of calling immediately a British empire economic conference in London to discuss the development of trade within the empire.

After declaring that what was most needed was tranquility and free scope of private enterprise, he announced a change in the policy of handling foreign affairs.

OFFICES COMBINED
The Cabinet Secretariat, which Mr. Lloyd George had organized to carry out his personal policies, already has been abolished and its duties transferred to the Foreign Office. The work in connection with the League of Nations, which was done by the Secretariat, goes to the Foreign Office, and all arrangements for future international conferences, even those attended by the Premier, also go to the Foreign Office.

Mr. Bonar Law says he intends to carry to fulfillment all foreign obligations which have been undertaken, but he resolutely declined to extend any commitments. He hopes Lord Curzon will complete a lasting peace in the Near East.

"The maintenance of our friendship with the United States," said Mr. Bonar Law, "is one of my foremost aims, but of community interest in the world, as well as of our own, is the principal aim of the British policy."

And above all he intends in matters of external policy, to act in close consultation with the dominions and India.

He declared the first task of the new Parliament will be the ratification of the Irish treaty and making it good both in letter and spirit.

PREMIER GIVEN OVATION
(BY CARLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
GLASGOW (Scotland), Oct. 26.—A rousing ovation was given Prime Minister Bonar Law when he arrived to address an audience of 1,500 persons in St. Andrew's hall tonight and set forth the principles upon which his party stood. He devoted the opening of his speech to an explanation of how the came to resume the leadership of his party.

This came about, said the Prime Minister, when it was realized that the coalition was losing ground and a split in the party was inevitable, not through intrigue, but owing to discontent in the constituencies throughout the country which were clearly determined to terminate the existing coalition and start afresh under different conditions.

Mr. Bonar Law said he believed it would have added to the strength of labor to have set up a party, on the one hand, representing opinions opposed to labor, and on the other a party representing labor alone.

LOYD GEORGE FETTERED
(BY CARLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
COLCHESTER, (Eng.), Oct. 26.—Former Prime Minister Lloyd George, Lord Birkenhead, the Lord Mayor of London, and a group of his adherents were the principal guests given a rousing welcome today among a party of fifty invited by the Mayor of Colchester to take part in an oyster feast here.

The mile long road from the railway station to the Town Hall was lavishly decorated and the entire route was lined with crowds who greeted around Mr. Lloyd George's motor car.

Lord Birkenhead, indicating Mr. Lloyd George at the banquet, said the former Premier and himself, with a fuller realization than their opponents of the difficulties of the government problem, would afford the government every help within their power and would put country before party.

Mr. Lloyd George followed with a brief speech.

"The mercury of the world's thermometer has not reached that mark which indicates health," he said. "It is nowhere near it and until it reaches it, there is real danger and cause for anxiety. The physicians who have been watching the case and been doing their utmost to promote recovery have said: 'Don't let us have a quarrel in the hospital until the patient has completely recovered.'"

RANCHERS TAKEN IN DRY RAIDS

LONG STEEL PROBES USED IN HAY STACKS

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
MODESTO, Oct. 26.—Complaints from people in the Hugobon district, nine miles from Modesto, caused raids today by Stanislaus county officers on three ranches in that section. Armed with long steel probes, deputy sheriffs investigated hay stacks on the ranches and found more than 2000 gallons of wine and whisky, valued at approximately $15,000—bootlegging. Further investigation disclosed the presence of two twenty-four hour saloons operating full blast. Four ranchers were taken into custody.

Hugobon parents complained that drunkenness among young boys and girls had become alarmingly prevalent in the last several months and asked that an investigation be made of the suspected ranches.

The ranchers arrested are prominent in that section and the raid has caused a sensation in the farming community.

FACE SECOND TRIAL
WHITE CLOUD (Mich.), Oct. 26.—Whether Mrs. Meda Hodell, convicted of slaying David Hodell, her aged father-in-law, would be called upon to defend herself against another charge of murder was in doubt tonight. Following her conviction, attorneys for the defendant gave notice of appeal and were granted time in which to file a bill of exceptions. On the outcome of this move probably will depend the future action of the State.

A charge of slaying her husband, Romie Hodell, still is pending against Mrs. Hodell.

The estimate is submitted for the 125,000 enlisted men and 12,000 officers now authorized by law and does not express the opinion of the War Department as to the necessity of carrying out the spirit and object of the National Defense Act.

BUDGET TOO SMALL
"Within the limiting figure allowed the War Department by the Bureau of the Budget, namely, $112,932,309, it is not possible to meet the requirements of the National Defense Act."

SENATIONAL STORY
"After I turned into De Russy's lane, her statement proceeds, 'I lost one of my moccasins and I had to get off my mule and pick it up. Then I started back on my way home. (She was mounted upon her mule, Jennie.)

"I heard voices quarreling. The man and woman who had been beside the automobile had gone to the rear of the house. They had a fight, and I could see it working. I could not tell what the quarreling was all about."

"Then I heard more shots—bang! bang! bang!"

"I was afraid and I put my heels in Jennie's ribs and started home."

Mrs. Gibson was spurred on to the telling of her story, she stated, when Clifford Hayes was arrested and charged with the crime, because she knew he was not guilty.

"Respectfully yours, (Signed) JOHN W. WEEKS."

PRESIDENT'S REPLY
"My dear Mr. Secretary:
"I have had under advisement your letter of September 21, wherein you point out that large requirements of the next fiscal year have occasioned the formulation of the War Department estimate of the cost of the military program for next year. Disappointing as such a course may be to you, I am sure you will understand that there still must be a limitation in the military program for next year."

AMERICA WILL SEND OBSERVER

Near East Parley Means Much to Government

Method of Participation is Cabinet Problem

Improbable That Official Delegate Will Be Sent

BY ROBERT BARRY
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The Cabinet probably will consider tomorrow the invitation of Great Britain, France and Italy that the United States accept full voting membership in the forthcoming conference of the Near East.

Whether it does or not, the answer of the administration will be that "formal participation" by this government is not possible now necessary, but that it will have very keen, close observation. A formal invitation to the conference is expected to be in Washington tomorrow.

The American government takes the view that the forthcoming conference is primarily a matter of the Near East, and that the United States, which exists between the Allies and Turkey, and since the United States never was at war with Turkey, it has no appropriate place in that phase of the negotiations.

VERY DEFINITE RIGHTS
Nevertheless, this government has very definite rights and interests in the Near East which have been outlined publicly by Secretary Hughes and it is the policy of the administration to protect American interests wherever they may be.

This government, it is pointed out, is on record as favoring unqualifiedly the freedom of the Dardanelles, the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus, as well as the protection of racial and religious minorities. It also has certain very definite rights under the so-called capitulations treaties and it has an interest in seeing that Americans are not discriminated against in favor of the nationals of any nation.

A semi-official statement made this afternoon concerning American policy in interpreting the situation in the Near East, said that this government will not accept any invitation for active participation in the conference, but whether he be designated by the diplomatic euphony of "unofficial observer," or as they say in Europe, "an American note taker."

DIFFICULTIES OBVIOUS
The difficulties which confront the administration with respect to participation in the conference are obvious, yet, it is equally clear that unless this government has some one on the ground prepared to state the American view on important matters of policy affecting American rights and interests, those rights and interests are likely to be left to shift for themselves.

Should this government be unrepresented absolutely at the conference, it is pointed out, and should the conference act in a manner unsatisfactory to the administration, the Allies would have a perfect alibi in the fact that they had extended an invitation for this government to step forward and state its views, and that invitation had been rejected.

The difficulties attending active participation are those connected with possible arrangements for keeping the straits open. Secretary Hughes is on record as favoring the freedom of the Dardanelles, the Sea of Marmora and the Bosphorus. If an American delegate with full power were sitting in a conference on that question with instructions to insist upon such freedom, and the conference should determine that certain measures were absolutely necessary for guaranteeing the freedom of the straits this government might logically be expected to take action.

It is not stated whether the meeting was held or how many attended, but whether Mr. De Valera was present and whether he accepted the Presidency. Those who answered the roll are referred to as "faithful deputies of the Dail Eireann" and they passed a resolution that the speaker and other officers of the Dail, abetted by some of the members, endeavored, illegally and unconstitutionally, to subvert the republic and its government and with forced aid have joined in a traitorous conspiracy and armed revolt with the intent of establishing the so-called Free State and provisional partition Parliament, and purposing thus to destroy the independent sovereignty of the nation and the integrity of its ancient territory.

SHIP PASSENGERS SEE ACCIDENT TO PLANE
(BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHEROKEE, Oct. 26.—Passengers arriving on the liner Antonio from Quebec witnessed the narrow escape of nine men on a huge quadruple motor hydro avion, which, on nearing the ship, was suddenly enveloped in a cloud of smoke. It descended on the waves and broke in half, the wings and propeller shaft remaining afloat.

The passengers balanced the craft in the water by climbing along the framework. A ship's tender went to rescue the men and towed the hydro avion into port with all passengers sitting on the wings.

DAKOTAN GUILTY OF $60,000 GEM THEFT
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SIOUX FALLS, Oct. 26.—Louis Bechtold, son of a business man here, today was found guilty in Circuit Court of the charge of burglary in the third degree, in connection with the theft of nearly $60,000 worth of jewels from two trunks stored in the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway passenger station on September 18. The robbery resulted in the murder of E. J. Pike, police captain.

"MAKE IT TEN YEARS, JUDGE"

Man Who Pleaded Guilty Disappointed at Short Sentence

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
TACOMA (Wash.) Oct. 26. F. E. Osgood, 45 years old, who voluntarily surrendered to the police and pleaded guilty to passing bad checks, today objected when Judge E. J. Hackett sentenced him to only ninety days in jail.

"Aw, judge, can't you make it ten years," he asked. Then he asked for two years.

Osgood explained that a long term in jail would please him, because he was tired of the hardships imposed by "a cold, cruel world."

He wanted to take a share of responsibility of keeping them free.

INTERNATIONAL GARIBOLDI
It so happens that among the various suggestions which have been made for maintaining the liberty of the straits is the establishment of an international gariboldi, possibly at Gallipoli, for the purpose of guaranteeing a free passage to the straits, inasmuch as public sentiment in the United States is apparently against any increase in the military establishment at this time, and has been interpreted by several high administrative officials as unquestionably favoring even withdrawal of the forces in Germany, the wisdom of agreeing to such an international gariboldi is expected to follow the Lausanne conference will be very comprehensive and will involve the signature in many commitments of an equally far-reaching nature.

Nevertheless there has been considerable pressure upon the administration that it should be fully represented in the formulation of any treaty which might be dictated by the Lausanne conference.

Among those attempting to bring such pressure are powerful religious organizations, the American great sympathy for religious minorities in Asia-Minor and insist upon the American protection of them, and educational organizations which have been built up at great cost. Equally insistent have been American business men with interests in the Near East.

These latter through their leading organization, the American Chamber of Commerce for the Levant, have repeatedly protested to this government through Rear Admiral Bristol, American High Commissioner, and vigorously insisted upon full American participation in the next Near East conference.

PRODUCTION SHOWS GAIN
All Major Industries Forge Far Ahead
Federal Reserve Report Marks Real Activity
Transportation and Labor Only Shortages

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Productive activity has increased notably during the last six months in all the major industries in the Twelfth Federal Reserve District, according to a report issued here today by John Perrin, Federal reserve agent. There has been only a slight increase in the use of bank credit for commercial purposes, however, Mr. Perrin said.

"Total loans and discounts of reporting member banks in the larger cities have increased but $5,218,000 or 6.7 per cent since February 1, when the low point of the year, $118,102,000, was reached. Reducements of these banks on the Federal Reserve Bank on October 3 were near the lowest level of the year. Recently their holdings on investments have declined slightly. The country banks, as a group, have borrowed only in small amounts in the current crop moving season. On October 11 the total discounts of the Federal Reserve Bank had declined to $34,578,000, the smallest figure since the banks began to reduce their borrowings in December, 1920.

"Interest rates in the principal banking centers were generally unchanged for the month. An exception was the rate on thirty to ninety-day paper of customers in San Francisco, which at 5 per cent was lower than at any time in the present period of readjustment. The interest rate on bankers' acceptances advanced from 3 1/8 per cent on September 15 to 3 3/4 per cent on October 17.

TRANSPORTATION WEAK
"Industry has been hindered recently in some sections by inadequate transportation service and in others by shortage of labor. The lumber industry in particular has been inconvenienced. Partly as a result of the shortage of labor, which is now approximately 100 per cent normal, has exceeded shipments and orders for four consecutive months.

The shortage of labor previously noted in the mining industry of this district continues. Average wages of all classes of mine workers were increased approximately 10 per cent during August and September. All the more important metals are being produced in increasing quantities.

OIL OUTPUT GAINS
"In the petroleum field of California, production reached the record figure of 408,332 barrels per day in September. Stored stocks on October 1 were 252,101 barrels, the largest amount held in storage since February, 1916. "Building throughout the district continues active. Permits issued in September were greater in both number and value than one year ago. According to the United States Bureau of Labor index, wholesale prices of building materials are now 16 per cent above their low point of March, 1922, and 17 per cent above the general level of wholesale prices.

"Goods continue to be distributed freely at retail and wholesale. The value of sales of thirty-one department stores was 5.7 per cent greater than in September, 1921. In the wholesale trade, nine of the ten lines reported an increase in the value of their sales compared with one year ago. Dealers in six lines sold more goods in September than in August.

"Charges to depositors' accounts (bank debts) in the banks of the twenty principal cities of the district again exceeded those of the corresponding month a year ago by 7 per cent.

FEWER FAILURES
"Business failures in September, 1922, were less than in any month since April, 1922, and were below the figures for September, 1921 in both number and amount of liabilities.

"After advancing from 138 in January, 1922—the low point—to 155 in July and August, the United States Bureau of Labor index number of wholesale prices declined 2 points in September. Prices of the principal products of the district changed little in the month.

"An average crop of wheat, amounting to 36,639,000 bushels, has been harvested in the district. The movement to market was more rapid in September, but is still retarded by a shortage of freight cars and the reported hope of many farmers that better prices will prevail in future months. Thrashing returns indicate that the California barley crop totaled 41,654,000 bushels, the largest yield since 1914. The large potato crop of this district has thus far been marketed with difficulty and prices are low. With the exception of apples in the Pacific Northwest and grapes in California, the fruit shipping season is practically completed.

"Live stock is being marketed in normal quantities."

Blotter Shows Hubby Wedded Another Woman
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—When handsome Jean Le Grange left a blotter on his desk he made one of the saddest mistakes ever charged up to well-to-do efficiency expert.

He has offices of 803 Fifth avenue. His wife, who lives at 75 West Sixty-eighth street, found the blotter and used it as the first link in a chain of events which today led to her husband's arrest on charge of bigamy. The blotter, according to Mrs. La Grange No. 1, was used dry a love letter to another woman.

La Grange may be extradited to Maryland tomorrow to face the bigamy charges.

Mrs. La Grange No. 2 attempted to bail out the efficiency expert, but Magistrate Corrigan held him without bail to await extradition.

"My husband led a dual life for months before I found the tell-tale blotter which revealed his love affair," Mrs. La Grange No. 1 told the court.

"Goods continue to be distributed freely at retail and wholesale. The value of sales of thirty-one department stores was 5.7 per cent greater than in September, 1921. In the wholesale trade, nine of the ten lines reported an increase in the value of their sales compared with one year ago. Dealers in six lines sold more goods in September than in August.

"Charges to depositors' accounts (bank debts) in the banks of the twenty principal cities of the district again exceeded those of the corresponding month a year ago by 7 per cent.

FEWER FAILURES
"Business failures in September, 1922, were less than in any month since April, 1922, and were below the figures for September, 1921 in both number and amount of liabilities.

"After advancing from 138 in January, 1922—the low point—to 155 in July and August, the United States Bureau of Labor index number of wholesale prices declined 2 points in September. Prices of the principal products of the district changed little in the month.

"An average crop of wheat, amounting to 36,639,000 bushels, has been harvested in the district. The movement to market was more rapid in September, but is still retarded by a shortage of freight cars and the reported hope of many farmers that better prices will prevail in future months. Thrashing returns indicate that the California barley crop totaled 41,654,000 bushels, the largest yield since 1914. The large potato crop of this district has thus far been marketed with difficulty and prices are low. With the exception of apples in the Pacific Northwest and grapes in California, the fruit shipping season is practically completed.

"Live stock is being marketed in normal quantities."

El Presidente Adams, del Comité Nacional Republicano, en su contestación al Presidente Gompers de la Federación Obrera Americana, le pega duro a los demagogos, y explica por qué los obreros deberían apoyar la planilla republicana.

El Comité Nacional Democrático ha presentado la cuenta de gastos de campaña, haciendo ver la dificultad de obtener dinero. El ex-Presidente Woodrow Wilson da $200.

SEEK TO DISSOLVE MAGNETO COMPANY
GERMAN PREWAR OWNERS FILE SUIT AGAINST PALMER; DAMAGES ASKED
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) Oct. 26.—Dissolution of the American Bosch Magneto Company, restoration of its control to the prewar owners and damages of $2,000,000 were asked in a suit filed in Supreme Court here today by Albert Klein, a resident of Germany, through his counsel, Harvey Andrews of New York.

Namtag A. Mitchell Palmer, former alien property custodian, as a defendant along with Arthur T. Murray, and Martin E. Kern, officials of the company, Klein alleges that the trio used Palmer's official position to defraud the prewar owners of their property.

The complaint sets forth that Klein came into possession in April, 1917, of ninety of the 250 shares of the old Bosch Magneto Company, by the death of his brother, Gustav Klein. He was then and since has been, he says, a "friendly alien."

Nevertheless, the complaint continues, Palmer took over the plant, placed Murray, then president of the Bethlehem Motor Company, and Kern, treasurer of the same company, in control.

The company then was sold—illegally, he claims—to Harry Griffiths, who, he alleges, was acting for Kern. The sale price, $41,150,000, was little more than a quarter of the appraised value of the property, and this low price, he alleges, was realized because of misleading advertising tending to depreciate the value of the plant.

Klein asks that a receiver be appointed to take over and operate the plant pending a decision on his suit.

TEDDY ROOSEVELT, JR., "CALLED" BY TRAINMAN
REGS PARDON FOR SMOKING ON PLATFORM AND GOES TO SMOKER
(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
BARANAC LAKE (N. Y.) Oct. 26.—En route here today to make a political speech in Gov. Miller's behalf, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt was enjoying a smoke and the scenery of the upper Adirondacks from the platform of a three-car New York train near Big Moose, when a portly conductor, failing to recognize his noted passenger, rebuked him for smoking on the platform and told him: "The smoking-car is just ahead. No smoking out here."

The late T. R.'s son smiled and, obeying orders, went into the smoking-car to finish his cigarette. Another passenger recognized Roosevelt and let the conductor know whom he had "bawled out."

The portly conductor sought to apologize, but Teddy, Jr., laughed and assured him: "Quite all right, sir. You were quite right." Roosevelt talked with deer hunters bound for camps in the upper Adirondacks, and said he intended hunting grizzlies and puma in Mexico in December, "providing things are not too hot in Washington."

PARIS OPTIMISTIC ON NEW BRITISH CABINET
(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PARIS, Oct. 26.—A highly optimistic view of future Anglo-French relations is aroused here by Lord Grey's speech declaring France has been abandoned more than any other country during peace and by the composition of the new Cabinet.

The inclusion of Lord Derby, former Ambassador to France, as Minister of War, meets with enthusiastic approval. Marquis Curzon's retention as Foreign Minister is also popular.

Bonar Law's forthcoming Glasgow discourse is awaited with confidence that it will do much toward re-establishing the erstwhile entente cordiale.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Speculators for the decline succeeded in forcing another material recession of quoted values in today's stock market. They were aided in their operations by higher money rates, further liquidation on the part of disappointed traders and small investors, another drop in United States government bond prices and the lack of effective public support. It was the tenth consecutive day of reaction.

Industrial stocks, in which there had been heavy speculation during the last month, again suffered the most. Railroad shares, which have been holding up well in the face of heavy selling on other parts of the list, also participated in today's reaction. Reading, Lackawanna and Rock Island all dropping more than 3 points.

Mexican Petroleum was one of the outstanding weak spots, dropping more than 3 points on comparatively small turnover. Standard Oil of New Jersey dropped 4 points, partly in reaction to a report of 1 1/2 cents a gallon for gasoline. Standard Oil of California and Pan-American of California, which had been holding up well, but soon yielded to the general reaction. American Locomotive, which a brief rally was staged yesterday afternoon, lost more than 3 points today, while Baldwin, which has been heavy all week, dropped 1 1/2. General Electric dropped 4 1/2 points on sales of less than 1000 shares and American Car sold off 3 1/2.

Reports of improved conditions in the steel industry were disregarded by the steel stocks, which continued their downward course. United States Steel common slumped 1 1/4 to 105 1/4. Bethlehem Steel was off 1 3/4, Bethlehem Steel common slumped 1 1/4 to 105 1/4. The Bethlehem Steel Corporation declared its regular quarterly dividend of 1 1/4 per cent on the common and 1 3/4 per cent on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred, but again failed to pay their out of its earnings, although President E. G. Grace declared that the earnings for the third quarter were much better than for the first and second.

Speculative disappointment over the failure of the directors of the Consolidated Gas Company to make an extra distribution at this time found expression in the heavy offering of the stock, which dropped 5 1/2 points after having enjoyed several days of strength in the "bear" movement. Other conspicuous weak spots were Kellogg, Western, Louisville Tobacco, Maxwell Motors A. O. G. Elevator, Peoria and Eastern, Peoria Cereal and Republic Steel, all of 3 to 5 1/2 points. Total sales were 1,116,000 shares.

Call money opened at 4 1/4 per cent and advanced successively to 4 1/4, 4 1/2, 4 3/4, 5, 5 1/4, 5 1/2, 5 3/4, 6, 6 1/4, 6 1/2, 6 3/4, 7, 7 1/4, 7 1/2, 7 3/4, 8, 8 1/4, 8 1/2, 8 3/4, 9, 9 1/4, 9 1/2, 9 ## Notice to the Public

A confusing situation makes it necessary for me to publish the following announcement to my production holders and the public in general.

The Santa Fe Springs Leonard Well No. 3

Located in the heart of production territory at Santa Fe Springs and now flowing about 1000 barrels of 30 to 31 gravity oil per day will hereafter be known as

The Santa Fe Springs Melczer Well No. 3

This change in name is made necessary by the fact that a well at Signal Hill bears a similarity to the name Leonard No. 3, but is in no way connected with it.

FIRST DIVIDEND CHECKS ON MELCZER NO. 3 WILL BE MAILED SHORTLY AFTER NOVEMBER 10.

DO NOT SACRIFICE YOUR HOLDINGS. MELCZER NO. 3 IS NOW PAYING AT THE RATE OF

Julian No. 1 Investors

We congratulate you! You have won and won handsomely. You were brave enough to take a chance—you were brave enough to scoff at those who deride oil investments. You were shrewd enough to realize that the time to buy is when wells are drilling. You were awake while others were asleep.

We extend our heartiest congratulations. You are the owners of a Santa Fe Springs Gusher announced yesterday as making 3500 barrels a day.

Be in on another big winner! Share in five different leases this time. Buy CALIFORNIAN units at $100 each before CALIFORNIAN No. 1, now drilling at 3000 feet, is a 3500-barrel well and the price of Californian units has soared out of sight.

Buy them for a quick, staggering profit! Buy them for huge monthly dividends!

Move fast—step lively—hurry to our office—wire or phone your reservation. The few CALIFORNIAN units we have on hand at $100 each won't be half enough to accommodate those lucky Julian unit-holders who want ANOTHER big, rich slice of Santa Fe Springs oil profits!

ACTORS SEEK "IDEA" ROLES

Rare Film Stories of Real Backbone Find Players

Competing for Assignments

What does the actor think about the subject of ideas, real ideas, better ideas, in the photoplay he is employed to interpret? Such is the interesting question which has been raised as the De Mille-Los Angeles Times Idea Contest continues to roll up a total of thousands of letters toward the closing date, November 1, just five days away.

It is a question answered by the story Jeanie Macpherson wrote from the idea Mr. De Mille will get out of this contest for from all many thousands of minds that cannot help but come an idea of real substance.

"People don't act," says Mr. Macpherson, "because they have no idea of what they are doing."

HUNT FOR

Detectives Are Assigned to

Collegian

The hunt for the three students accused of branding William Sykes, of the University of California, Southern Branch, last Sunday night labeled yesterday, when "revelations" were made by the report given out by Detective Ernest C. Moore.

The letters "U. S. C." were burned upon Sykes' face and neck by an unidentified trio with a mixture of iodine and nitrate of soda.

Sykes was at first thought to be disgraced for life, but later examination showed the wounds to be superficial.

Detective Sergeants Cline and Craig, who investigated the affair, in connection with the earlier turning of the Southern Branch's woods, yesterday filed a report on the occurrence at Central Station.

Private detectives have also been engaged by both U. S. C. and the Southern Branch to ferret out the culprits.

Earl G. Steel, president of the student body of the University of Berkeley, is expected to address an assembly of Southern Branch students tomorrow afternoon.

Steel intends to delve into the facts surrounding the invasion of the Southern Branch campus.

Details were made yesterday by Arthur G. Waldsch, in charge of student training for the Federal Vocational Bureau, that his department had entered the field of investigation.

According to Waldsch the matter has been left in the hands of the school authorities for solution.

—Friday—Bullock's Third Floor.

Silk Dresses, $15.00, $9.75

SPARTAN JOYS
It is said that there is a species of tree kangaroo in the wilds of Australia that is never known to drink. No liquid may touch its lip in a whole lifetime. It must be a beautiful thing to be a tree kangaroo in the wilds of Australia.

A NOTHER GRIEVANCE
Europe has suffered from unusually cold weather all this summer and blames it all on the United States. It seems that in building the Florida East Coast Railroad we dammed up the channels between the Florida Keys and have so diverted part of the Gulf Stream. So far, the League of Nations has taken no action in the matter.

ROYAL ROADS
The Empress of the Pacific has been returned by her poverty and dependence. The remedy is in her own hands. After all the free publicity she has received she should know how to pick some new royal road to fortune. She might write a book or open a tearoom or go into the movies. There are better royal roads for her to tread than the one that led her to dependence and poverty. But she must first become a good democrat.

HANDS OF JUSTICE
Forty-eight more indictments have been returned by the grand jurors investigating the massacre of miners at Herrin. By this time pretty nearly everybody in the community has been indicted. Now, if there could be a couple of convictions, justice would not wear such a shame-faced look. They are still betting money in Williamson county that no one can ever be convicted of participation in the massacre. It is at least hoped that the indictments will help.

NOT SO GRATE
The fireplace has lost caste with modern California architects and many of the thousands of recently built homes are without this substantial but old-fashioned feature. It is easy to find use for the fireplace, but folks are cutting out the coal and wood. The great increase in the use of gas for fuel, coupled with a seemingly inexhaustible supply of the natural product, has amended the heating problem of the Southwest. When a fireplace is used it is merely a parking place for a gas-log or the vent for a gas stove. It is hardly an essential and with many it is not desirable.

NOT YET DISCOVERED
For a long time the world has honored Columbus as the discoverer of America. Then the ubiquitous inquirer after historical accuracy—something that doesn't startle—started to exploit little Ericson as the original discoverer of the New World. The ubiquitous inquirer should have turned a deeper digger into antiquity and proved that Sir Brendan the Mariner antedated both claimants by 1000 years and that the honor goes to Ireland.
We give it up. Yet sometimes we are inclined to think that the world at large hasn't yet discovered America.

THE PILOT THICKENS
It is said that the existing State administration will endeavor to perpetuate its Railway Commission and adjust matters so the new Governor will have nothing to do with its make-up or management. Under this plan Gov. Stephens would make full-term appointments to his selections for places soon to become vacant and also give new full-term appointments for those expecting to hold over. The administration will hold power until January 3, although many appointments terminate January 1. This affords a fine opportunity to embarrass Gov. Richardson and cripple his program. But, if the old administration attempts to fasten its barbed wire to the ship of state for all time, the people will understand and take such measures as may be found to relieve the situation. There may be a shutting off of the sources of supply. There is no joy in being a politician when there is no access to the treasury.

WORLD FLYING
The United States War Department is planning an aerial expedition around the world. Large army planes, scouts and bombers would make up the hegira. The purpose would be to try out the aerial service and demonstrate its capacity. The ships of the navy sometimes have their maneuvers in foreign waters and the air is subject to like friendly invasion. Full permission would be asked from the different governments it is proposed to visit, but there would not be much trouble on that score. It was proposed to go out by way of Labrador, Ireland and Iceland and come back by way of Siberia and Alaska. That doesn't sound like a pleasure jaunt. The heavenly crusaders will have to wear their earplugs all the way. We'll take them on the roller coaster as Venice. That's a comfortable trip through the clouds. If we go around the world by air we prefer that it be hot air.

BONAR LAW AT THE HELM
Bonar Law has turned his "topsy" Cabinet. It contains the names of some but Conservatives and is not an imposing array of talent. Few of its members are known outside Great Britain; and it will probably be dubbed the "Little England" group. The heroic figures of the World War have passed.

Many of those whom he would have liked to have included are reported to have respectfully declined to serve. A number of them are now actively campaigning under the banners of the Liberal party, whose leader is Lloyd George. The reason for this reluctance of noted men to accept positions in the Cabinet is not difficult to fathom. They are really appointed for only a term of three weeks. If the approaching election goes against the Conservatives the government will fall. Men with political reputations to conserve do not care to go skating on such thin ice.

Lloyd George has abandoned his early plan to form a Centrist party of his own. The time was probably too short to select candidates in all constituencies and to perfect the election machinery. But he is carrying with him under the Liberal banner a number of statesmen who had come to be known as the leaders of the Conservative and Unionist party. There has been but a single notable defection from the Liberals to the Conservatives and it comes from what is known as the Aquatic Liberals. Reginald McKenna, head of one of the most powerful banking institutions in England and Chancellor of the Exchequer in the Aquatic Cabinet, is taking an active part in the Conservative campaign. But this defection, while strengthening the Conservatives in the financial group, is likely to weaken them in the Labor districts. The Labor politicians are already crying out against the Bonar Law Cabinet because about half the members are peers. They claim that it is a repetition of the old fight between the Cavaliers and the Roundheads, that the real issue is the aristocracy against the common people. While this may be only clap-trap argument, it will have its effect as a campaign shibboleth.

From this distance it looks as though the Conservatives are attempting to carry the government too far to the right in a single stage, as though they are permitting the best to become the enemy of the good. They are not discriminating between the kind of government they would like to have and the kind it is possible to get. The masses always become alarmed at sudden and violent changes, either to the right or the left. In European politics a move to the right is in the direction of Conservatism, and to the left is a veering toward radicalism. Custom has given to these words denoting direction a political meaning. It is one of the many instances in which "English" must be translated to be intelligible to the average American reader.

Lloyd George has the advantage of being the advocate of the status quo. If the Liberals are successful there will be no change in governmental policies. A victory for the Conservatives means a policy of partial isolation, a disinclination to mingle in purely continental affairs and a rigid retrenchment in the cost of government. A victory for Labor would be followed by radical extensions in governmental activities. There would be an invasion by the government in many lines of private interest. This would necessitate increased expenditures and the money would be raised by what Labor terms "a tax on capital."

That Bonar Law and his supporters have permitted their conservative ideas to carry them too far to the right is indicated by the early defection of some of the most important newspapers in Great Britain. Lord Rothermere, who succeeds Lord Northcliffe as publisher of the London Times and London Daily Mail, was supporting Bonar Law and attacking Lloyd George a week ago. He has already reversed the policy of his publications and is now eulogizing Lloyd George as the "greatest Englishman of the generation." It sounds novel to an American ear to hear a Welshman called an Englishman; we would call him a Briton. But they do such things in "Lancaster" and to an American protest they would make the laconic rejoinder "Brits do."

Scotland the Glasgow Herald, formerly the great Conservative organ of the North, has turned Bonar Law, a brother Scot, down cold and is the leading organ of the Liberal party. These realignments seem, from this distance, to be disadvantageous to Conservative chances of victory. While it is doubtful if the Liberals can secure a majority over all, there is at least a prospect that the old coalition of Liberal and Conservative will be succeeded by a Liberal and Labor coalition, with Lloyd George again Premier.

Unless Labor should win a majority and be able to organize a government, there will be little change in the foreign policy of the British Empire, whether Lloyd George or Bonar Law wins. Lord Curzon, Secretary of Foreign Affairs under the Lloyd George government, holds the same position under Bonar Law. While not personally popular with the masses, by reason of his aristocratic aloofness, he is regarded as one of the most far-seeing diplomats in Europe. Speaking French like a native and familiar with the French temperament, he is more popular in Paris than in London. He is credited with ironing out the Dardanelles controversy between the two governments, after Lloyd George, whose temperament is personally offensive to Poincaré, had badly bungled it.
As far as American interests are concerned, Liberal and Conservative are labels on two bottles of the same vintage.

HELP FOR THE EX-SERVICE MAN
Politicians have indulged in a great deal of loose talk about the claims of the ex-serviceman—chiefly, of course, with the idea of influencing votes. Since performance speaks louder than promise, we offer facts and figures on what the Republican party has actually done.

Since the Republicans came into control of Congress they have made the following itemized expenditures for ex-servicemen of the World War:
Compensation claims, $259,364,785; allowances and allowances, $253,447,771; national training, $201,054,809; hospitals, $141,948,237; administrative, $49,849,285; total, $1,135,654,533.

For the current fiscal year the Republian Congress has made an initial appropriation for the Veterans' Bureau of $418,053,843. With the single exception of interest on the public debt, this is the largest appropriation made by the Congress for any department or function of the United States government.

At the request of representatives of the ex-servicemen this Republican Congress has made it possible for all ex-servicemen who have permitted their insurance policies to lapse to be reinstated at any time prior to March 1, 1934.

The government is completing hospital plans to cost $800,000,000 to provide service men the most up-to-date, scientific and humanitarian system in the world.

Briefly, over 260,000 ex-servicemen have received hospital treatment. Over 180,000 have entered vocational training. Compensation to disabled ex-servicemen or their dependents is being paid at a rate in excess of $1,000,000 every day, including Sundays. The Veterans' Bureau handles 1000 new claims every day. An insurance business is being conducted for over 600,000 ex-servicemen at premium rates far below those charged by private companies.

These are a few things the Republican party has actually accomplished.

HE WAS ONLY A DOG
What is a dog? Just animal, half-brother to the wolf, creature of instinct, raised a little above the other beasts that perish by closer association with man—man, near-angel of the vision beastie and the soul immortal.

Pretty tough to be only a "dog." You know how affronted we men consider the term when applied to our noble selves—in an aggravated form, indeed, a deadly, fight-compelling insult.
Perhaps in The Times the other morning you read the story of Bob, the dog that kept the lonely, five-day desert vigil over the dead body of his master. If you did, somehow, after that, it didn't seem so bad to be called a dog—now, did it? And Bob, of course, was that something—ab—worse, too.

Stories of dogs being faithful unto death are common as falling leaves in autumn. But the story of a dog being faithful to a master already dead—that implies something different.

For five days out in the pitiless desert Bob kept faithful watch over the dead body of his master. When his doleful whines at last brought aid, Bob himself was on the point of starving to death.

Here is the unusual twist to the story. Bob was starving in sight of plenty. He could so easily have satisfied his hunger. His natural instinct was to do so.

He didn't. Why? He had faith that his master still lived.

Shipwrecked sailors on no worse predicament have resorted to cannibalism. And the traders have killed their faithful dogs in cases of extremity to satisfy their hunger pangs. Bob, the dog, did neither.

Is this the difference between human intelligence and animal instinct?

If so, isn't it just possible that "animal instinct" comes nearer to visioning the mysteries beyond than "human intelligence"?

A sage once said, "The more I see of human beings the more I admire dogs." That all depends on what human beings and on what dogs you base your opinions.

As an animal swayed only by instinct, Bob's conduct was revolutionary, he disobeyed nature's first law, self-preservation.

As half-brother to the wolf he went shamelessly back on his family ties. As a creature without a soul his devotion was presumptuous.

But, as an example of brave, strong, unflinching, dare-devil, effulgent faith, this Alfreddale terrier made man's ponderous pretense at omniscient belief look like the soft smudge of a snail on the polished marble base of a sunlit fountain.

He was only a dog—unskilled in the ways of intelligent humanity. Quite possibly, had not help arrived, he would have starved to death for his faith in his master.

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM

BY HERMAN J. STICH

From Soap Box to Standard Oil Director
"Edward J. Bullock climbs to success via a soap box, proving that this well-known article may be put to more constructive uses than that of serving as a rostrum for Boieshevist bunk."

Such was the caption of an article in the Standard Record, a Standard Oil house organ, the caption being used to announce the elevation of Mr. Bullock to the directorship of the largest company doing business on this planet, one known from one end of the earth to the other—the Standard Oil.

Back in August, 1889, according to the Standard Record, R. G. Collins, then manager of the Milwaukee branch of the independent Standard Oil, hired the smallest of office boys at that rate at large.

The office boy was knee breeches, had a piping voice and was the latest youngster that one would suspect of aspiring to a height of six feet or a six-figure salary.

Today this wretched diminutive had in his "piping" voice a persuasive voice that he is over six feet and buys oil and "things" for the biggest corporation in the world.

Bullock's first step upward came soon after he was employed. Trying to answer a telephone call he was surprised and not a little chagrined to find that he could not "make" it. Mr. Collins, noting the difficulty, provided him with a soap box which he mounted, and in the manner of those who from time immemorial have talked from soap boxes, shrilled a challenge to the universe.

Bullock was heard at a far greater distance than the ordinary shriller because, first, he had a friendly tone and people are prone to lend a more pleasant and willing ear to a persuasive voice than to a complaining one; and, second, because, even then being progressive and efficient, he figured out that the invention of Dr. Bell gave his voice a wider range and so he used the telephone constantly to secure orders.

However, he did many other things besides talk. In 1895 he came to Chicago as assistant manager in the lubricating oil sales department. In 1915 he was made manager of the Chicago sales division.

When the oil products purchasing department was created in 1915 he was placed at its head. And in 1921 he became director of purchases, having supervision over the entire purchasing department and still giving his personal attention to the buying of oil products. On his shoulders rests the responsibility of keeping the refineries supplied with crude oil, which he must procure at prices which will permit operation at a profit.

Mr. Bullock has no "secret" of success. His idea is that if a man gives his time, attention, intelligence and energy to the interest of him who butters his bread, pays his rent and supplies the where-with for his clothes for his wife and kiddies he is bound to gain recognition and a sure reward.

RIPLING RHYMES
AUTUMN

Another year is skipping right apart to its close, the skies will soon be shipping some novelties in snow; and all the bathing peaches have left the ocean beaches, and through the woodland reaches a keen wind shrewdly blows. There's something sad and dreary about the days of fall; they seldom bright and cheery, spring days they don't recall; the nights are long and chilly; the roads are rough and hilly; and motor horns are crying—why not just stop stall. We face increased expenses, though we are in the hole; we'll have to burn the fences, so costly is the coal; the price of grub is steeper; and yet, why he Alfreddale terrier made man's ponderous pretense at omniscient belief look like the soft smudge of a snail on the polished marble base of a sunlit fountain.

DEN POINTS

It is one thing thing after another in sport. The pigskin heroes are now hogging the headlines.

If money talks, then German marks must make a lot of noise. But possibly they are not money.

We are fast approaching the hypothetical question stage in both the Burch and the Phillips trials.

We shall now see whether Andrew Bonar Law will be able to qualify as the Slick Man of Europe.

Having seen a picture of Mrs. De Bouchelle, we haven't it in our heart to blame the venerable Aas G. Candier so much.

Another thing, how did the press agent of Isadora Duncan, the dancer, manage it to get a job in the New York immigration office?

To him who bath, it is always given. Holders of Standard Oil stock are preparing to receive checks for 100 per cent dividend.

Will Hays has been made chairman of the committee to extend material aid to the Far East. He hardly send them a few Arbuckle films.

The aged Clemenceau is coming to the United States just in time to get ready for a swell American Thanksgiving dinner. Please pass a bit of the white meat to Georges.

Let us return suitable thanks for the fact that there will be plenty of cabbage on the market this fall. But the trouble is that sauerkraut and near-broth never did set well together.

The average citizen is still praying for the President, the Governor and "those in authority," but not a word for the newspaper men. Possibly they can shift for themselves. They usually do.

It does beat all how the hairdressers are continually contriving something new. It would surprise us not a bit to get up some morning and see a permanent wave in the Los Angeles River.

Among other queer phases of the attempt to enforce the prohibition law is the fact that presumably Harding will invest from $5 to $10 a pint for moonshine liquor and take a chance of being poisoned with the stuff. There seems to be nothing quite so perverse as humanity.

The Democrats of Georgia have nominated former Justice of the State Supreme Court Walter F. George for United States Senator to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Tom Watson. As George can qualify before the extra session of Congress on the 15th, it is difficult to see where Mrs. W. H. Felton, the woman Senator from that State, comes in.

Mrs. W. H. Felton, the old lady named by Gov. Hardwick of Georgia to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Tom Watson, hardly had her top fitted on her aged shoulders until the wicked Democrats of that State nominated a mere man for the job. And Mrs. Felton's experience as a Senator never got any further than a faint recollection by Hardwick, who was after the job himself.

One of the features of the effect of the Fordney-McCumber tariff law is the spectacle of a delegation from Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana and Texas calling upon President Harding to tell him what a fine thing it was to enact the law that protects many of their products. A pretty good sign for a Republican tariff. The South as well as the North is interested in a protective tariff, but the South is kept Democratic by the negro question.

Nevertheless, he was always affectionately referred to by his countrymen as "the colonel."

Roosevelt wrote and published fifteen books of history, essays and travels, the best-known of which are "Winning of the West" and "The Strenuous Life."

BELT VS. SUSPENDERS

BY HARRY BOWLING

Enough of fashions for women. Tell me now of a battle royal over fashions for men. This is the question and its discussion rages unceasingly.

Shall our men wear belts or suspenders? New York has declared for suspenders. Other cities are on the verge of Paris totters. Chicago indulges in a sardonic "I-told-you-so" chuckle.

So far the virtue West stands in manly opposition. But it is time for all the belt men to look after their waist lines.

For the continued use of the belt we set forth the following good and sufficient reasons: Belts are truly masculine. Their origin is noble. The one redeeming feature of the Dark Ages was the "belted Earl." Whatever is good in aristocratic sprang not from the bold, but from the belt.

The suspender is feminine. Its first use was to keep up my lady's stockings. It is known as the suspender because it suspends shoulders, which are womanly in appearance.

Those things that pertain to many things are always expressed in belts. Thus athletes box and wrestle for championship belts. The hero who swims to the desert island has his treasure stored in his belted around his waist.

Who ever heard of heroes carrying trousers? No, their suspenders! What great heroes would care to fight for the "champion suspenders" of the world?

When there is work to do and crisis calls for action the real man seeks his trusty belt.

It was so way back in biblical times. When Jehu fared forth to exterminate the sons of Ahab he girded up his loins. He didn't brace up his pants. Jehu was a belt man.

HOUSE OR HOME
BY PAMELA EDNA BARTLETT
A very strong conviction has presented itself to me, which is that we live in two environments—"A Home or a House."

In my youth I should have been appalled at the fact that I could exist in a four-walled structure, gather my family around me, plan my going and coming and say that I was only living in a "house," and not a "home."

Mature years have taught me that a something intangible—shall I equate it as "spiritual"—must call from the very corners. Even the worn furniture and the faded carpets must make you want to go and give them a gentle tap, you love them so. It may be a charmed atmosphere, just a house, and the windows face a series of chimneys, pots, or perhaps you look up on blossoming trees with shadows playing, or it may be a cottage in a garden of old-fashioned flowers, or a mansion with marble trimmings—but that intangible something that makes the soul smile when you think of it—that is "home."

Even cherished memories cannot always make you call it "home," nor a death, nor a birth, nor a fond kiss which still lingers, though the lips which pressed it have passed into the highway of life.

No, it must be just one solution and that is a "home" must reflect a joy, a happiness, a contentment, from the very depths of "ourselves," a place which gives us an impetus to go on and yet holds out its arms and into it we retreat with our "thoughts" for sweet rest.

The Cave Cender of the Country
The Shenandoah Valley is achieving a reputation for its caves. It has a large collection of great ones and numerous smaller ones. Those of Luray in Page county have been known for some time and have been visited by thousands of persons from all over the world. But recent years other caves have been discovered and opened which are just as notable and interesting. These are Weyer's Cave in Northern Augusta county; Engle's Cavern in Shenandoah county; and the Shenandoah caverns which were the last to open. Some persons claim that the latter are the most wonderful of the group.

Islands of Thieves
An odd geographical name is often disguised by being in a foreign tongue. Take the Ladrões, for instance, a well-known group of Pacific islands. Magellan's voyage to the Philippines was the first time these islands were known to the world. They were such treacherous perils, and "Thieves" islands they have remained ever since.

between Los Angeles and San Francisco up to November 24, when the Harvard will return on the run and increase the sailing schedule to four sailings weekly

ELDERLY ADMIRER WINS

Husband, Twice Deserted, Granted Divorce After Letter Tells of Infatuation

It was not flattery to Alva H. Hensley of Long Beach when his young wife, Gladys O. Hensley, practically a bride, permitted a man of 83 to win her love from him. But he could not resist her heartbroken plea to take her back. He forgave her. She vainly tried to resist the lure of her elderly admirer—a married man. She broke away again.

This time the separation was final, and yesterday Judge Summerfield granted him a divorce.
"She told me she could not understand her infatuation for the old man," he told Judge Summerfield. "She repented. One day she asked me for money to go to Los Angeles and I found that she was meeting her elderly lover."
"My God has forgiven me," she told him after the second time.
Will you forgive me?"

APPEAL ANSWERED
The first letter, upon which she was taken back, is an anguished appeal:
"I can bear this no longer. I simply must write to you, whether you respond to my call or not.
Dear heart, I still love you. I always will love you. I have prayed night and day for some change—either for you to come back to me or for my love for you to die away, and so make it a little easier for me, but my love will not die. It grows with every passing hour."
Oh, my dearest, I love you.
Oh, I want you so. Will you not come back to me?

Police Believe Arrests in Connection With Assault
Netted Bootleg Gang

A woman and two men are under arrest, another man is sought, and three men are reported in custody at the City Jail as a result of a series of raids yesterday by police and deputy sheriffs. The officers asserted a gang of bootlegers had been broken up. The accused are believed by police members of the band that Wednesday morning set upon Special Dep. Sheriff Irvine and R. A. Boswell in front of the Green Mill Garden, severely injuring Irvine.
The woman gave her name as Dorothy Lloyd, the men stated they are Eddie Hanna and H. Knowlton, while A. E. Lloyd, husband of the woman, was the object of the search last night. The woman and Hanna were taken into custody at a bungalow at 4441 Fernwood avenue through the tracing of an automobile license number. Another machine standing in the yard led them to the Norwood hotel, where Knowlton was arrested.
All those in custody denied any knowledge of the affair on the Venice Highway, but Irvine and Boswell were certain of their identification. At the bungalow five gallons of alcohol were found officers assert, and a handbag filled with bogus revenue stamps and liquor labels. The arrests were made by Dep. Sheriff Fox, Bright, Allen, Bell and Wilcox.

Mrs. Besanty to Testify in Burch Trial

Mrs. Elizabeth Besanty, one of the State's principal witnesses in the trial of Arthur C. Burch, accused jointly with Mrs. Madeline O'Brien of the murder on Aug.
5, 1921, of J. Belton Kennedy, will be called to the stand today in Judge Shenk's court. It was stated yesterday by Dep. Dist. Atty.
Clark.

Thomas Besanty, her son, completed his testimony yesterday, and was followed by his father, Louis Besanty. Oda Wilson, a newspaper reporter, testified regarding receiving shotgun shells, said to have been used in the slay-ing, from Thomas Besanty. E. W.
Cummings and Ralph Cummings told of seeing a car near the scene of the slaying. They were followed by Nicholas Hanley.

"Little Mac"
Almost Lost
Behind Bars

"Little Mac," who, as a general thing, is either just getting into trouble or just getting out, was almost lost yesterday. It wasn't as if the authorities didn't know where he was, because they did.
They were positive that he was in jail, but they couldn't find him there.

"Little Mac" is officially known as William Lenahan and as Mr.
Lenahan. The officials desired to take him before Judge Homer yesterday, but they couldn't find him.
Desiring a prisoner, they decided to take Mr. Lenahan and through a strawberry mark or something on his left shoulder, they discovered it was the man they wanted.
He was arraigned, after admitting that he was everybody they were looking for on a charge of stealing an automobile. He also has counts of eight other crimes against him.

BOY SCOUTS TO PAY HONOR TO ROOSEVELT

Hundreds of Los Angeles Boy Scouts hiked yesterday to their week-end camp in the Hollywood Hills where they will do honor to Theodore Roosevelt. Harry Geo-ring, deputy scout commissioner, will preside at the celebration of the birthday of the departed Scout citizen.

War Veteran Edward Towne, Scoutmaster of Troop 32, will be the chief speaker at the campfire. Towne was in the First Division, U. S. A. F., the first out-to reach France. He conducted a party of Scouts on a visit to Roosevelt's grave at Oyster Bay last year and is in Los Angeles to regain his health.
In addition to the celebration in the Hollywood hills fifty-six troops will hold special meetings at their individual headquarters, where their parents and friends will be welcomed.

Robert Brown, convicted of second-degree murder for the slaying of William Antior, yesterday in Judge Reeves' court, through his attorney, S. S. Hahn, filed a motion for a new trial. Hearing of argument by Mr. Hahn and Dep.
Dist. Atty. Orme was set for the 9th inst.

Herbert Wilson, asserted wealthy mail bandit, convicted of the murder of his "pal" Herbert Cox, and Guido Spingola, known as "The Mouse," accused of robbery, yesterday found two new charges against them as the result of their escape from the County Jail and their later capture.

The two were accused in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist. Atty.
McClendon of assault to kill Henry E. Purser, the jail guard, who fought them, and Adam Ward, who joined in the jail break. They were also accused of robbing L. M. Story, the mail carrier, whom they forced to drive them about, of his car, valued at $500.

Wilson and Spingola were arranged before Justice Hahn yesterday, hearing was set for the 31st inst. Bail for each was fixed at $15,000.

Ward is now serving a life term in San Quentin for the murder of Mrs. Nancy Wieselock.

Police were asked late yesterday to aid in a search for Mrs.
Jennie Gaudin, aged 23 years, who was reported to have disappeared mysteriously from her home at 422 Lincoln avenue, Culver City, with $2000 worth of jewelry in her possession.

Mrs. Gaudin, according to the report of her brother, Pierre Paul, to the police, left her home at 9 a.m. Wednesday with the intention of trading the jewelry for diamonds in Los Angeles. She has not been seen or heard from since, declared Mr. Paul.

Mrs. Gaudin, said her brother, is a widow with two children. When last seen she was wearing low black shoes, a brown fur neckpiece and gray silk stockings.

Mrs. Marie Gilloon declared that her husband, James V. Gilloon, auditor of a local club, not only belittled her intelligence by calling her a "pin-head" and a "fool," but also flew into rages; nagged her and was profane. She charged cruelty in her divorce complaint which came before Judge Sumner-a month, and gave her the use of one of the husband's bungalows.

the storekeeper, J. J. McIntyre, and robbed him of $7. He then walked calmly out of the shop and escaped.

McIntyre was alone at his desk when the bandit walked in, quietly drew a revolver from his coat pocket and ordered the shopkeeper to "sit still." He then snipped the telephone wires with a pair of shears, and ordered Mr.

McIntyre to the rear of the shop,
where he bound the latter's hands with a piece of rope and turned him face down on the floor. He then rifled his pockets.

Philanthropy and Civic Club. The Philanthropy and Civic Club, though noted for its good works, quite outdid itself yesterday when an unusual call was made upon it. I am going to tell you today just a little bit more of what I heard my doctor discuss with my family about the milk question, because I want you to realize that it is terribly important for babies to have milk that is clean and unadulterated and free from disease.

Milk is, as I told you before, just as good for germ babies to thrive on as it is for our human babies. They multiply very rapidly in it under the right conditions, especially if it is not kept on ice.

Some people who have not investigated thoroughly, say that it is very silly to say that germs can cause disease. That the germs are the result of disease instead of the cause. But, in reality, these people themselves are making the silly statement.

You cannot say that the bacteria are the result of the ground being harrowed and fertilized; there must be the seeds of bacteria planted in order to produce bacteria, and so it is in the infectious diseases—that is, these diseases that are caused by germs. There must be planted certain specific germs in order to have the disease.

I told you a short while ago that tuberculosis, scarlet fever, diphtheria, typhoid, septic sore throat, dysentery and other disease germs could multiply in milk if it were infected by them. And then if the milk is given to us, we may get the disease.

I want to speak especially of tuberculosis, because cows themselves carry the disease.

Yesterday's program at the Philanthropy and Civic Club was a musical, but as usual, the motive behind it was not lost, as was evidenced by the help given this unfortunate family. Engagement Told at Tea

Miss Lucille McNamee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. McNamee, of Fifth avenue, announced her engagement to Lieut. Harvey Manhoer of Honolulu, at a bridge tea which she gave at the Wilshire Country Club yesterday for Mrs. Bryan Cole (Delivera Funk), who is just back from her wedding trip.

Fifty maids and young matrons were guests, and assisting the hostess were her sisters, Miss Albert Ralph and the Misses Anita and Effie McNamee, and also Mrs. Harold Myers.

The interesting bit of news which came as a great surprise was told by little announcement cards tucked in the center of roses which were presented to each guest from baskets placed on each table.

The romance occurred during the summer, while Miss McNamee was visiting at Scott's Barracks with her aunt, Mrs. M. M. McNamee of San Francisco. Lieut. Manhoer recently returned to Scott's Barracks after several years of service in Germany, and will come to Los Angeles in February for the wedding, which will take place then.

Miss McNamee is an attractive member of the younger set and is a graduate of the Cumnock School.
